HOUSE GOWNS.

The Late Creations of Paris Modistes. Popular Colors.

Frank colors are now universally worn for all occasions, but in the matter of house gowns there is no limit to the audacity of coloring, middle aged and elderly women as well as young ones clothing themselves in light or brilliant tints. White is particularly favored for indoor toilets and composes some very charming costumes.

Plain and broche silks, velvet, mouseline de sole, embroidered woolen fabrics and crepe de chine are all used for house gowns, but in bright or pale tones. Straw, rose, pale green and mauve are favorite colors, as are also bright reds and blues.

Sky blue and moss green form a fashionable combination much more pleasing to the eye than the partnership of blue and mauve which is occasionally seen.

A white velvet gown, trimmed with pearl passementerie and white ostrich plumes, is one of the latest creations of a

GIRL'S COSTUME.

Parisian modiste, and few more perishable examples of attire could be devised. White is exceedingly fashionable, and white astrakhan or plush composes blouse models for the house, the trimming being white fur. The belt for such a blouse is of white kid embroidered with metal or jewel effects, and the accompanying skirt may perfectly well be of some color.

Wrappers are now made very elaborately. They are, of course, loose in form, and the preferred fabrics are soft wools and silks. If the material is thin, it may be lined with wadded silk. Ribbon and lace are used as trimming.

The picture shows a costume for a little girl of 10 years. It is of two toned green wool goods, and the skirt opens in front over a full flatter of emerald green velvet, framed in narrow plaitings of pale green silk. The wool bodice has a plastron of emerald velvet, and is trimmed with silk plaiting also. The sleeves are of green velvet, the belt of pale green satin.

THE MODE.

How to Remodel an Old Skirt—The New Trimming.

A pretty way to make a new skirt or to remodel an old one is to cut it in deep, square tabs or scallops along the foot, placing under these tabs a full plaiting or flounce of silk. The tabs may be edged with passementerie or narrow velvet or even fur.

The flat bands of trimming so much worn this season are extremely useful in concealing seams and masking defects of various kinds. This trimming is easy to apply, and is therefore a boon to the home dressmaker.

When a bodice has become too tight, it may be opened in front over a plastron of velvet, silk or guipure, the plastron being framed by equilles of lace, plaitings or revers of a different material. Sleeve caps and a short basque of goods matching the revers give unity to the bodice and prevent it from looking "made over." Another way of enlarging a corsage is to cut away a large part of the front, replacing it by a blouse front of silk. The old front may be cut in a bolero form, the whole bodice trimmed with braid and a belt made to match.

Boleros, corselets, bretelles and cross-wise bands of trimming are all fashionable and serve to rejuvenate old corsages very satisfactorily. Sleeve caps of various kinds are much seen, and another mode of sleeve decoration consists in cutting a lengthwise slash in the upper part, allowing it to open over a puff of silk or velvet.

The cut illustrates a bodice of beige velvet embroidered with golden brown. It has a square guipure of plaited golden brown silk and a short, plaited basque of the same material. The sleeves, of plaited silk, are decorated with bands of beige velvet fastened by small gold buttons. The collar, of beige velvet, has a ruche of brown silk lined with beige silk, embroidered with brown. The belt is of brown silk.

JUDIE CHOLLET.

There is no message which brings more gladness to a true woman's heart than the sweet assurance that a little one is coming to bless her life and call her "Mother."

But in all her loving preparations for the expected little guest, a mother is liable to forget that her own health and physical condition is the most important provision which can possibly be made for the baby's happiness.

If the prospective mother is weak, nervous and anxious, this condition is bound to react on the baby's constitution. No daintiness of wardrobe will compensate for the loss of the natural, healthy vigor which a mother should bestow upon her baby.

As early as possible during gestation, the expectant mother should reinforce her bodily powers with the sustaining, health-bringing influence of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It gives natural, healthy vigor and elastic endurance to the organs specially concerned in motherhood. It makes the coming of baby perfectly safe and almost painless. It gives nerve-strength to the mother and vital hardihood to the child.

It is the only medicine devised by an educated physician specially to overcome all weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organs.

Mrs. Roscoe Vanover, of Robinson Creek, Pike Co., Ky., writes: "I wish to tell you for the good I have received from your 'Favorite Prescription.' I have used it at different times for the last five years, and always with the most gratifying results. But the greatest good received from the 'Favorite Prescription' was about four months ago when my last baby was born. I was afflicted with 'child-bed fever.' Instead of sending after a doctor I used the 'Prescription' and was cured. A lady friend of mine was similarly afflicted and sent after the doctor and took his remedies and died. I am 27 years old, weigh 147 pounds, the mother of five children, and am enjoying the best of health."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, promptly and permanently.
